

Building safety: HBF data collation overview

Andrew Walker
September 2022

Private and strictly confidential

Our role

132 submissions

Covering >2,800 buildings

c.100,000 data points

Across all submissions

Observations from our experience

There is significant range of understanding and uncertainty around existing building portfolios.

Corroboration of data points is critical to building confidence.

Prioritising remediation activity should be data-led and process-driven.

Thank you
